HELLO BROADWAY LIVE

NOTE FROM ROBERT

As a musical theatre artist, what do you love more than anything?

You love to PERFORM.

You LIVE for the chance to be onstage, connect with an audience, and move people to gasp, laugh, cry, or burst into applause.

Right now, amidst the COVID-19 pandemic, many schools and theaters are closed. This means it's tough to find opportunities to perform in front of a live audience and do what you love most.

That's why my team and I decided to create The Level Up Challenge.

We want to help you produce a solo show that you can perform live. And we want you to work miracles and pull it all together...in just 1 week.

Will this be wild? Yes. Fast-paced? Oh yes. Will there be moments of absolute joy? Yes. And moments where you wonder, "Why did I sign up for this, what was I thinking?!" Probably!

But in the end, you will be so happy you said YES to this incredible experience. Because this is what you LOVE to do, boo. So let's do it.

Put on a show.

Perform for a live audience.

AND raise money for your dreams. All at once.

What is better than that?

My ALL,
-Robert

THE DETAILS

- Over the course of 7 days, you will create and star in your very own 15 minute musical theatre solo show.
- For your show, you can sing, dance, do a monologue, or do all three! We love a triple-threat performer!
- You will perform your show live—online—to an audience of your friends, family, classmates, teachers, mentors, neighbors, or anyone else you want to invite.
- You can broadcast your show on Zoom, Instagram, Facebook, YouTube, or any other platform that you want to use.
- The challenge begins on Sunday November 8. You'll do your show on Saturday November 14. The celebratory Moving Forward call is Sunday November 15 at 6 pm Eastern.
- The entire challenge happens online. No travel required!
- Each day of the challenge, we email you! Each email includes a short video + your action step of the day.
- We will help you plan, rehearse, and polish your solo show. It's going to be amazing!
- And this isn't just ANY show. It's a fundraiser show! You'll invite audience members to chip in—any amount—so you can raise money for your musical theatre education fund. We challenge you to raise $395 by November 15.
- You can get this money through donations. Or you can sell clothes, mow lawns, walk dogs, do errands for neighbors, or something else! We'll share more money-making ideas with you during the challenge.
- Then, you can use that $395 to enroll in Hello Broadway Live, where you'll get 30 days of dance, voice, and acting masterclasses led by award-winning Broadway artists. 30 days of Broadway magic that will change your life!
