

WHAT'S HOLDING YOU BACK?

“I don't know if online training really works.”

Do you want to join our Program but hesitant to believe that online training actually works?

BROADWAY COLLECTIVE STUDENT, HUNTER,
BELIEVED IN ONLINE
TRAINING, BUT HIS FRIENDS HAD DOUBTS.

Hunter says: "When explaining to my friends that I was training with The Broadway Collective, an Online academy, they wondered if I was actually going to improve by just sending in videos. I can tell you right now that receiving feedback from Broadway professionals, even through videos, improved my skills immensely."

As a result of his commitment to training online, Hunter saw huge results!

Through our Program he was able to nail his 20 college auditions and went into those dance calls with confidence and ease all thanks to his time in our program. He is now a student at the University of Oklahoma pursuing his BFA in musical theatre!

"Now, after having completed my college auditions, I can confidently say that I killed those college dance calls. My success in my college auditions I greatly attribute to the skills I achieved through the Hello Broadway."

-HUNTER

While so many programs have had to adjust to online learning during this time, The Broadway Collective has been a leader in online Musical Theatre education. We have been established for almost 5 years and we are only getting better.

ARE YOU WANTING TO COMMIT TO THE BROADWAY COLLECTIVE, BUT STILL UNSURE OF HOW IT WILL WORK ONLINE?

Set aside 10-15 minutes to really ask yourself the following questions:

— How many of my current local teachers are actively working on Broadway?

— How often am I getting personalized feedback on my singing, dancing, and acting with my current local training?

— Am I surrounding myself with current like-minded people who have the same dreams and goals as I do?
